FOR SALE LEASEHOLD

Positioned within an elegant Grade II-listed villa dating from circa 1840, South Court presents an exceptional two-level residence of character and architectural distinction. Set within the highly regarded Lincombes Conservation Area, the apartment enjoys an elevated and commanding outlook across beautifully landscaped gardens towards Tor Bay, with far-reaching views over the town and its picturesque hillside neighbourhoods, many of which were established during the Victorian era.

The property has been curated to offer a refined balance of period grandeur and contemporary sophistication. Principal living is arranged across the entrance level, complemented by a beautifully appointed, fully self-contained garden level, ideally suited to guest accommodation or multi-generational living.

Expansive south-west facing terraces on both levels provide a seamless connection between interior and exterior spaces, perfectly designed for private entertaining and relaxed coastal living. Subject to the necessary consents, including any required planning permissions and building regulation approvals, there may be scope to reconfigure the existing accommodation to create additional bedroom and bathroom provision, further enhancing the versatility of this remarkable home

A distinguished portico entrance leads into an elegant vestibule where original detailing has been sensitively preserved, including decorative tiled flooring and an inner hall accessed via glazed double doors. The principal reception room is of classic proportion and volume, featuring soaring ceilings, intricate cornicing and an original fireplace, with bespoke cabinetry seamlessly integrated.

Full-height doors open onto the terrace, framing captivating views across the gardens towards the coast.

The kitchen and dining space is both functional and beautifully appointed, with shaker-style cabinetry, granite work surfaces and a central island. Integrated appliances are discreetly housed, while a bay window draws in an abundance of natural light, creating an inviting yet elegant setting for dining and entertaining.

The principal bedroom suite offers a luxurious retreat, defined by its generous proportions and period detailing. A freestanding bath is thoughtfully positioned to take full advantage of the far-reaching outlook, while bespoke storage conceals a private en-suite shower room. A further bedroom, currently arranged as a study and guest suite, benefits from a contemporary en-suite and direct access to the outside.

VIEWING BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

The garden level, accessible internally or via a private external entrance, provides an exceptional secondary living space of equal quality and design. A bespoke kitchen with Corian surfaces and integrated appliances, including a wine fridge, anchors an open-plan reception and dining area, with double doors opening onto the terrace. A spacious bedroom suite with dressing area and garden views is complemented by a stylish en-suite shower room and separate cloakroom, offering excellent flexibility for independent occupation or extended guest accommodation.

The property has undergone comprehensive modernisation, including full re-wiring and re-plumbing, alongside the installation of high-performance glazing designed to complement the original architecture while enhancing energy efficiency.

The gardens, originally established in the Victorian era, have been thoughtfully planted, the lawn incorporating a water feature and a decked entertaining area combine to create a striking setting. Two expansive terraces with glass balustrades provide uninterrupted views and exceptional outdoor living.

Private parking is available to the front of the property, with additional land included within the title at the head of the drive.
