FOR SALE LEASEHOLD

Occupying the first floor of a handsome semi-detached house dating from the 1920s, the apartment forms one of just two homes within the building. With stylish presentation, it enjoys a pleasant position in one of Cary Park's established residential roads, where substantial period houses, many still arranged as individual homes, create an attractive environment.

The property sits immediately close to the park, where mature trees, open lawns and recreational facilities create a leafy and attractive setting. The tennis courts are within sight and sound, the park also provides a bowling green and children's play area. At one end of the park stands All Saints' Church, with the shops and amenities of Reddenhill Road within level walking distance.

The property has its own private entrance at the rear of the house, with a staircase rising to the first-floor accommodation which has well-proportioned rooms, good natural light and a thoughtfully arranged layout.

The kitchen and dining room have space for both everyday dining and entertaining and a pleasant outlook towards the front of the property and the neighbouring tennis courts. The adjoining sitting room enjoys the same aspect and retains some of the period character of the original house, including a handsome picture rail and deep frieze beneath the ceiling.

The principal bedroom has a small en-suite shower room and an outlook towards the nearby church, while the second bedroom is a good-sized double. Bedroom three is currently arranged as a home office, but is equally suited to use as a bedroom if required, providing flexibility according to family requirements.

The accommodation is completed by a family bathroom and a separate cloakroom.

Outside, the property has an unusually good private space for an apartment. There is a pleasant area of garden suited to sitting and relaxing, together with a further section that provides an ideal setting for outdoor dining and barbecues. There is parking for two cars.

LOCATION

Cary Park is on the Babbacombe and St Marychurch side of Torquay, an established and particularly well-liked part of the town with a strong sense of local community. St Marychurch has a thriving centre with a good selection of shops, cafés and everyday amenities, while Babbacombe Downs is close by, providing a wonderful expanse of open space overlooking Lyme Bay. From here, the coastal scenery extends across the bay, with the beaches and shoreline below adding to the appeal of this particularly attractive part of Torquay.

VIEWING BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

The location is also well placed for Torquay's harbourside and marina, with the town centre and its wider range of facilities readily accessible. Torquay has a strong year-round appeal, with its restaurants, cafés, theatre and marina complemented by an active programme of events, together with opportunities for sailing, golf, tennis and other sporting and leisure pursuits.

CONNECTIVITY

For travel beyond Torquay, the South Devon Highway provides a direct connection to the A380 and the M5 at Exeter, while Torquay railway station offers direct services to London Paddington. Newton Abbot is also within easy reach for a wider range of rail connections, with Exeter and its extensive shopping and commercial facilities readily accessible by road. Exeter Airport provides further domestic and international connections.
